

Seven Drunken Nights - Artist - The Dubliners

As [G] I went home on Monday night, as [D] drunk as drunk could [G] be,
I [C] saw a horse out[G]side the door where [C] my old horse should [D] be.
Well, I [G] called me wife and I said to her, "Will you [C] kindly tell to me,
Who [G] owns that horse out[Em]side the door where [C] my old horse should [G]
be?"

"Ha, you're [G] drunk, you're drunk, you silly old fool, [D] still you cannot [G] see,
[C] That's a lovely [G] sow that me [D] mother sent to [G] me!"
"Well, it's many a day I travelled, a [D] hundred miles and [G] more,
But a [C] saddle on a [G] sow sure I [D] never saw be[G]fore".

As [G] I went home on Tuesday night, as [D] drunk as drunk could [G] be
I [C] saw a coat be[G]hind the door where [C] my old coat should [D] be.
Well, I [G] called me wife and I said to her, "Will you [C] kindly tell to me,
Who [G] owns that coat be[Em]hind the door, where [C] my old coat should [G]
be?"

"Ha, you're [G] drunk, you're drunk, you silly old fool, [D] still you cannot [G] see,
[C] That's a woollen [G] blanket that me [D] mother sent to [G] me!"
"Well, it's many a day I travelled, a [D] hundred miles and [G] more,
But [C] buttons on a [G] blanket sure I [D] never saw be[G]fore".

And as [G] I went home on Wednesday night, as [D] drunk as drunk could [G] be,
I [C] saw a pipe up[G]on the chair where [C] my old pipe should [D] be.
Well, I [G] called me wife and I said to her, "Will you [C] kindly tell to me,
Who [G] owns that pipe up[Em]on the chair where [C] my old pipe should [G] be?"

"Ha, you're [G] drunk, you're drunk, you silly old fool, [D] still you cannot [G] see,
[C] That's a lovely tin [G] whistle that me [D] mother sent to [G] me!"
"Well, it's many a day I travelled, a [D] hundred miles and [G] more,
But to[C]bacco in a tin [G] whistle sure I [D] never saw be[G]fore"

And as [G] I went home on Thursday night, as [D] drunk as drunk could [G] be,
I [C] saw two boots be[G]neath the bed where [C] my old boots should [D] be Well, [G] I called me wife and I said to her, "Will you [C] kindly tell to me,
Who [G] owns them boots be[Em]neath the bed where [C] my old boots should [G]
be?"

"Ha, you're [G] drunk, you're drunk, you silly old fool, [D] still you cannot [G] see,
[C] That's two lovely ger[G]anium pots my [D] mother sent to [G] me!"
"Well, it's many a day I travelled, a [D] hundred miles and [G] more,
But [C] laces in ger[G]anium pots sure I [D] never saw be[G]fore".

And as [G] I went home on Friday night, as [D] drunk as drunk could [G] be,
I [C] saw a head up[G]on the bed where [C] my old head should [D] be.
Well, I [G] called me wife and I said to her, "Will you [C] kindly tell to me,
Who [G] owns that head up[Em]on the bed where [C] my old head should [G] be?"

"Ha, you're [G] drunk, you're drunk, you silly old fool, [D] still you cannot [G] see,
[C] That's a baby [G] boy that me [D] mother sent to [G] me!"
"Well, it's many a day I travelled, a [D] hundred miles and [G] more,
But a [C] baby boy with his [G] whiskers sure I [D] never saw be[G]fore"
